R.S.V.P. is a New American restaurant and bar located in Victoria Island, Lagos. From its industrial luxury design elements to its hidden bar and lounge behind the restaurant, R.S.V.P. is inspired by the prohibition era restaurants and bars in Manhattan NYC.

R.S.V.P. began serving its first guests on November 26, 2014 and within a week, had created an impression that rippled across the nation.

Great freshly made food, an excellent bar program and exceptional service, along with carefully curated music and world class design were elements that set the new standards in the city.

R.S.V.P. is an upscale casual restaurant that has never compromised on its fundamental promise to its clients.

The following year, on November 26 2015, R.S.V.P. launched The Poolside.

The Poolside is located behind the restaurant and is an open outdoor bar and lounge that offers diners a more casual, yet equally detail designed experience that focuses on music and entertainment while remaining true to the R.S.V.P. promise of excellent food, great drinks and stellar service.
